When recording a meal for an infant, there is an Add Solid Foods slider in KidKare that can be toggled to Yes when a child is developmentally ready to consume solid foods. When this is toggled to Yes that child's record is marked as developmentally ready and the current date populates in the Developmentally Ready box in the Child Information Special tab.

For example, if the Add Solid Foods slider is changed to Yes and solid foods are recorded for an infant on May 7, 2019, 05/07/2019 is written to the Developmentally Ready box in Child Information. See the figures below.

The screenshot displays the 'Enter Meal' interface in KidKare. At the top, there is a breadcrumb trail: 'Meals > Enter Meal'. Below this, a date selector is highlighted with a red box, showing '05/07/2019'. To the right of the date are tabs for 'Infants' and 'Non-Infants', with 'Infants' selected. Below the date and tabs, there are dropdown menus for 'Breakfast' and a time field set to '09:15 AM'. A 'Serving 1' label is also present. On the right side, there are 'Save' and 'Delete' buttons. Below these is a dropdown menu labeled 'Am I serving enough food?'. The main area of the form is titled 'Beaufort, Caroline' and '4 m'. It contains several rows of food items with dropdown menus: 'Infant Milk' (Breast Milk / Iron Fort. Infant Formula (117)), 'Meat/Alternate' (Cheddar Cheese (145)), 'Infant Cereal' (Infant High-Protein Cereal (202)), 'Fruit' (Applesauce (175)), and 'Vegetables'. At the bottom of this section, there is a red-bordered box containing the text 'Add solid foods?' followed by a slider control. The slider is currently set to 'Yes', indicated by a blue circle and a yellow question mark icon. In the bottom right corner of the interface, there is a 'Total Meals' counter showing '1'.
